Employment Pathways – SLES Done Differently

We're launching with a small pilot group of just 8 participants to ensure each person receives individualised support while we develop and refine the program.

Expressions of interest are now open for our Geelong based SLES program

Early engagement | Education support | Individual planning | Outcome tracking

- Early engagement — explore employment pathways during final school terms, before leaving school.
- Individualised support — tailored to each participant's strengths, interests, goals and support needs.
- Allied health input in session content and employment support.
- Meaningful progress tracking and transparent reporting on skills, employment readiness and individual goals.
- Education and training pathways including support to access TAFE, tertiary education and vocational training aligned with employment goals.

Outcomes and goals may change in line with each participant's individual goals and engagement.
